Fund returns

Share markets declined in October after a deadly attack on Israel by Hamas, followed by an Israeli declaration of war and a barrage of airstrikes in the Gaza Strip. The risk of spill-over into broader regional warfare, coupled with the ongoing Russia/Ukraine conflict dented investor confidence. Investors also contemplated the prospect of higher cash rates and bond yields further into the future, following stronger-than-expected US Gross Domestic Product (GDP) growth and a higher-than-anticipated Australian inflation print for the September quarter. Major global central banks including the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) kept rates on hold during the month.

The Australian share market declined (-3.8%) in October: Technology and Healthcare sectors were the worst performers while Utility stocks were the only sector that gained. Australian Real Estate Investment Trusts (A-REITs) declined sharply (-5.7%) for the month. Currency-hedged international equities fell (-2.7%) and currency-unhedged international equities returned (-1.0%) as the Australian dollar fell against the Euro and the US dollar.

The Australian 10-year government bond yield jumped by 0.44% to 4.93% pa and the US 10-year government bond yield rose by 0.36% to close at 4.93%pa.

Against this backdrop, the Fund declined (-2.5%) for the month. The Fund achieved gains on its AU Healthcare Property Trust investment, cash, and short-duration (including inflation-linked) bond holdings. These were offset by weakness in the Fund's indexed Australian REITs, and Australian and hedged international share exposures. The Fund's one-year return sits at +3.6%, with double-digit gains on its currency-unhedged international share exposures as the key contributors to returns.

The Fund has achieved solid returns over longer periods. The return since inception sits marginally below objective (currently inflation + 3.75% pa), impacted by COVID's emergence in 2020 and share and bond market losses which preceded central bank rate rises to counter high inflation. Over the past five years, the Fund's strongest contributors include the Australian Unity Healthcare Property Trust at +15.3% pa, iShares Indexed International Equity Fund (Unhedged) at +11.1% pa, and the Antipodes Global Fund at +8.6% pa.

Fund portfolio management

The Fund added duration via its indexed Australian and global bond holdings as increases in Australian and global bond yields improved fixed interest's prospective returns. We also added to the Fund's listed global infrastructure exposure as we see prospective returns as highly compelling, trimming Australian and global share exposures to fund this purchase.

At month-end, the Fund's positioning can be summarised as:

Australian shares – The Fund expects to achieve an adequate return premium versus risk-free assets over the medium-to-long term, bolstered by franking credits. We recently trimmed the Fund's Australian share exposure, bringing this toward neutral, and hold a blend of underlying managers that provide diversification across company size, industry exposure, and investment styles, to improve the consistency of returns.

International shares – We believe most global share markets offer reasonable long-term returns for the risk being adopted. US equities remain the exception – we see the largest companies (in particular) as expensive and at risk of poor performance in coming years. We have trimmed the Fund's overall allocation to a larger underweight in recent weeks.

Real assets – The different return drivers for real assets versus listed equities provide diversification benefits for investors. We currently prefer listed assets, particularly global infrastructure, as these currently trade at a significant discount to direct/unlisted holdings, have greater liquidity and offer robust prospective returns, and have recently built an overweight position to these assets.

Defensive assets – Currently long-dated bond yields offer a modest return pickup relative to (zero-duration) cash, offering an attractive return premium if cash rates are cut in coming years. Accordingly, we have increased the duration within the Fund's fixed interest exposures recently.

Credit spreads offer adequate but not outstanding compensation for the risk being assumed. Accordingly, the Fund holds exposures to domestic and international credit managers.

Outlook

Investors remain keenly focused on global central banks' efforts to control inflation through tighter monetary policy, and are watching to see whether this sends economies and vulnerable industries into recession. We believe most central banks are near the end of their current tightening cycles.

On a medium-to-long term view most growth assets (with the notable exception of US shares) continue to offer a reasonable or attractive return premium versus risk-free assets, leading the Fund to adopt a "neutral" overall risk position.
